NHHF’s financial support has been invaluable for my medical school career. Their support extends more than financial help it extends to having mentorship and being part of an organization that promotes the health of the Latino community. The value of NHMA is more than the financial help I’m receiving is the invaluable guidance and mentorship I’m obtaining from amazing leaders in Latino medicine around the nation.